10 v.

11 Omron Corporation,

12 Defendant.

Case No. CV 17-02575-PHX-JAT

ORDER

13
14 The parties filed a stipulation for a confidentiality order (Doc. 45). The parties
15 intended to mark as confidential the following:

16 (a) information prohibited from disclosure by statute;

17 (b) information that reveals trade secrets;

18 (c) research, technical, commercial or financial information that the party has
19 maintained as confidential or is utilized by the party to maintain a competitive
20 advantage;

21 (d) medical information concerning any individual;

22 (e) personal identity information;

23 (f) income tax returns (including attached schedules and forms), W-2 forms and 24 1099 forms; or

25 (g) personnel or employment records of a person who is not a party to the case.

26 The parties offer no justification for why any of these categories of documents
27 need to be subject to a confidentiality order in this case. See AGA Shareholders, LLC v.
28 CSK Auto, Inc., 2007 WL 4225450, at *1 (D. Ariz. Nov. 28, 2007). Additionally,

1 certain categories listed (such as personal identity information) are far too broad to
2 qualify for protection.¹ Id.

3 The Court notes the parties also seek to mark confidential information they are
4 prohibited by statute from disclosing. The Court does not see how such a provision is
5 necessary because the information is by definition prohibited from disclosure. Thus,
6 even if this Court were to permit the parties to mark such information as confidential,
7 the Court would not be overriding the statute and permitting disclosure in the first
8 instance.

9 Based on the foregoing,

10 IT IS ORDERED that the stipulation for a confidentiality order (Doc. 45) is 11 denied, without prejudice.

12 Dated this 2nd day of October, 2018.
